The last graph shows the television audience throughout the day. It shows that the percentage of audience is zero percent in early morning but it gradually rises up to ten percent at 8:00am and maintains the same for the next two hours. Then it gradually falls in percentage in next two hours, however after that it rises abruptly twenty percent within the next two hours. Then after this the graph rises very fast and attains its peak at 10 pm which is about forty-five percent. Then the graph gradually falls down and at 2:00 am it is at five percent. The thirder graph shows the percentage of radio audience. Unlike the television one the peak percentage of the radio one audience is at 8:00am which is about 30 percent. Then it gradually falls and it corresponds with the television one at 2:00 pm. After that it gradually falls but with a small increase in percentage at 4:00 to 6:00 pm. The percentage of audience then gradually goes down and at 10:00 pm it is the lowest which is near 0 percentage. These graphs prove the progressive popularity of television.
